MARTI CITY ELECTION.

Marti City celebrated last night in truly Cuban fashion. The occasion for jollification was the election of new city officers.

The following officers were elected:

Mayor—James Johnston.
Treasurer—Henry Perozo.
Assessor—Carlos Balino.
Collector—N. Lopez.
Clerk—Rafael Tornes.
Marshal—Joseph Lopez.
Councilmen—G. Sorando, Louis Taffaletti, Richard Rutger, Martin Rodriguez, F. Garcia.

Business in Marti City is a little dull just at present. It will be brisk enough when the fall trade opens.

FALL PROSPECTS.

Time will soon be here for putting in fall gardens, and from present indications the fall crop in this section will be one of the largest ever planted. We will have a low freight rate by the time for shipment arrives. People's attention not being taken up with the orange crop, they will devote more time and study to the growth of vegetables and other crops. The present crop in the state is the largest ever known.

A TRIP TO THE GULF.

J. H. Benjamin, wife and mother, who left last Saturday for a pleasure trip down the Withlacoochee, around to the mouth and back to Crystal River, have returned.

Their trip was curtailed by Mrs. Benjamin's illness.

Nevertheless they were very much pleased with the gulf coast and the Crystal River region.

Mr. Benjamin says he would like to spend a month in that picturesque country.

IMMIGRATION.

There is a tendency toward a heavy immigration to South Florida on account of its exemption from damaging frosts. We must hold out such attractions and inducements for this section as will hold our share of the tide that is beginning to set in toward South Florida.
